

Mens o60 Dublin 2016.

We arrived in Dublin optimistic that we had a reasonably strong team littered with past Welsh masters champions. First up on Friday evening was an England team arguably the best of any age group – the result 0-5. Saturday morning we were up against a strong home team. Graham Bastion kicked us off with a win at no5 but Paul Mills at no3 was unable to back it up, and with Tony Bevan and Alan James losing at no 1 & 4 respectively the match was over- eventually 1-4.

Against Scotland we again started positively with Wyn Edwards winning at no5, the match levelled when Paul Mills lost at no3. Tony had dropped out with a sore knee, so David Wright was thrown in at no1. He looked out of it at 2 love down, but rallied to square at 2 all. He was unable to pull off the come back – losing in five. Paul Mills playing the final match narrowly lost in five so the match result was 1-5, but could easily have been 3-2 had we won the two 5 setters (accentuate the positives).

The mensO60 team, however, proved to be by far the strongest of the home nations on the dance floor later in the evening !!
